Personal Profile

I am currently in my first year of studying at Otago University. I'm a friendly, outgoing, positive person who loves to try out new things. I love to meet new people as I really like to socialise with others. In my spare time I like to play volleyball for school and try to be outdoors as much as possible. I really think of myself as a very talkative person and approachable. I enjoy meeting new people and taking up any opportunities as much as I am able to do so. Taking up different opportunities and talking to new people gives me a different aspect of life. I would call myself a dedicated and hard working person who doesn't like to leave a job unfinished.
